Senator-Elect New Addition to LaFollette Forces in Senate.

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE)
St. Paul, Minn.—Magnus Johnson, now a member of congress from Minnesota, was elected for the unexpired term of the late U. S. senator, Knute Nelson, by a plurality which may run to 75,000.
Early returns indicated fully that lead over Governor J. A. O. Preus, here and there for Johnson. The winner was a candidate on the farmer-labor ticket and had the support of a number of LaFollette men from Wisconsin in the campaign. When 2,000 of the state's 3,520 precincts had reported at noon today on yesterday's senatorial election, Magnus Johnson, farmer-laborite had a lead of 2,500 over Governor J. A. O. Preus, republican, the count standing: Johnson, 244,207; Preus, 181,422; James A. Carey, Democrat, 17,761.

COMPERS SEES VICTORY OVER "HIGH FINANCER"
Washington—President Samuel Compers of the American Federation of Labor Tuesday sent a telegram to Magnus Johnson, farmer-labor senator-elect, saying the people of Minnesota were to be congratulated on their choice. "To have won so magnificently for the people's party is a high honor," the message said, "is not only a personal tribute to you and the fundamental principles for which you stand, but also a tribute to the people who have been so firm and so progressive, constructive legislation for all people for the benefit of producers on farm and in factories."

Henrik Shipstead, who was elected last fall over Frank B. Kellogg, republican.
Both Johnson and Shipstead are farmer-laborites and have announced their intention to affiliate with the "followers of Robert M. La Follette" in congress.
"I am glad to hear of his victory," though the "real dirt" senator was more concerned today about "getting his hay done" than about things political, and he sought to postpone statements incident to his election, but he did let drop a few remarks. "Well, boys," he said, "I put it over. I beat 'Jako' Preus as I said I would. Now I can get the hay done. After that I can do some more organizing before I go to Washington."
He wanted to ignore statements as (Continued on Page 8.)

Chief of Police Charles Newman, said Tuesday. The gun play resulted in the wounding of John Keating, and Charles Bluff, both of Janesville, who were in the "jungle" when the gunplay started.
Following an argument with Keating, a Stoughton man, named Jacobson, and a Milwaukee man, named Wagner and a man named McCarthy, the tramps, three in number, drew guns and fired, and disappeared into the thickets.

French Restoring Ruined Areas but Mood Still Tense

By DAVID LAWRENCE
Copyright, 1928, by Janesville Daily Gazette.
(This is the first of Mr. Lawrence's dispatches from Europe dealing with post-war reconstruction problems as they appear to him after five years' absence. He finds that the French have made amazing progress in restoring those portions of their country that were devastated in the war, but that their mood after five years is still one of vivid war recollections. This is why he started his survey of European reconstruction on the battle fields of France where, he says, every student of French policy should start.)

Paris—When Woodrow Wilson stopped off in Paris five years ago the first man who met him was Raymond Poincare, then president of France and now its premier. The words "Poincare" whispered in Mr. Wilson's ear were a plea that the president of the United States should visit the devastated regions of France.
Mr. Wilson did not accept the invitation and the French were very much hurt. He did go many weeks later after the bulk of the work on the treaty of Versailles had been completed. Had he gone sooner there might have been less wrangling at the conference and the whole course of Europe might have been changed. The first thing that struck Mr. Wilson when he stepped out of the train in Paris was the sight of the devastated regions of France.

SACHTIEN, HEAD OF WETS, APPOINTED DRY COMMISSIONER

MADISON—Herman W. Sachdien of Madison took office as state prohibition enforcement commissioner Tuesday and issued a brief, verbal statement to the effect that "prohibitionists and bootleggers had better look out."
"My personal sentiments on the prohibition question," he said, "are not reflected in my official position. My legislative record will have no influence on my work as prohibition commissioner and I expect to be fair to all parties to the issue."
"I expect shortly to issue orders that will make 'somebody' stop," he added. A statement of the prohibition police in his new office will be issued in a few days, he said.

Swamp Girl Seen, Then Vanishes; Balks Posses

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS)
Waukegan—The officers who, since last Wednesday, have been searching for Mary Lawando, suspected of a murderous attack on her step-mother on the morning of July 10, again are led to believe that the girl is hiding or being cared for at some place in the woods near the Lawando home. A search by a posse Sunday, assisted by an airplane, in which almost every section of the woods, swamp and bog were gone over, was unsuccessful even to the finding of a trace of the girl and it was concluded she could not be taken that section.
Monday afternoon, however, a section crew on the Milwaukee road saw a young woman who answers the description of the missing girl, come out of the woods near the Lawando home, look about, then go back into the forest, skirting the edge of the swamp. The men did not interfere, fearing the girl was armed, but notified the officers.

WIFE OF CUSTER FEARS DROWNING

Spouse of Missing Man Thinks Son's Death May Have Caused Insanity.
Although police in Chicago, Milwaukee and other cities have been notified of the mysterious disappearance of Eusebius L. Custer, salesman for the D. J. Luby company, in a desperate effort to find him, his wife, Mrs. Custer, has been learned. His disappearance was told in the Gazette last Saturday. Custer, disappeared from Janesville last Tuesday morning after he had telephoned his wife that he was going to Milwaukee for a two days' visit.
When he failed to return the last of the week, Mrs. Custer notified police. No reason for his action can be given by Mrs. Custer, who said Tuesday that he was seemingly in perfect health and had been working around the home for the past few weeks during the evening hours.
The only possible reason, according to his wife, is that he may have been affected by the heat and may have been thinking of the death of his son, Mrs. Custer also expressed fear that he possibly may have been drowned.

APPLETON IN GREETING TO FRENCH HERO

Appleton—Appleton and the Fox River valley gave a rousing reception to General Henri Gouraud, "lion of the Argonne," and his party Tuesday morning.
Thousands lined the streets, waving the Tri-color and the Stars and Stripes as the French war hero rode to the city hall, where he was received by Mayor Frank Reuter and city officials. The general is the guest of the Appleton Rainbow Veterans' association here.
General Gouraud was pleased with the monuments to only French exploits in the Fox River valley.
"If the French and Americans have always been satisfied to be in contact with each other, that satisfaction is due to the fact that they have been together for so long a time," he said.
The general and his party were guests of the Rainbow Veterans' association at luncheon Tuesday noon, and at night they will be entertained at a public banquet.

ECKMAN TO FACE TRIAL ON SHOOTING CHARGE

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE)
Elkhorn—At the conclusion of testimony concerning the events which led up to the shooting to death of Carl Fritz, Johnstown farmer, at the Adolph Eckman farm Sunday afternoon, a coroner's jury late Monday returned a verdict finding Fritz came to his death from a hemorrhage resulting from a gunshot wound, inflicted by Adolph Eckman.
As a result Eckman will face prosecution on a charge of murder or manslaughter. District Attorney Alfred Godfrey, Elkhorn, said Tuesday morning that he had not made up his mind which it would be. The information will not be filed until late Tuesday. Pending the filing, the Walworth county farmer is held in Walworth county jail without bail. Arraignment is expected to follow the filing.

WISCONSIN LABOR SNUBS REDS LEADER

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS)
Superior—The general executive board of the Wisconsin Federation of Labor this afternoon denied a request of William Z. Foster, well known radical labor organizer, to speak before the federation convention here. No reason was assigned by the board.
Foster, who is known principally for his acts in organizing steel workers, and was lately tried under the Michigan syndicalist law for conspiracy, is to talk before a meeting of the Workers' Party here Tuesday night.
He had asked to be permitted to address the state federation of labor at some time during its four day convention.

Grew, Minister to Swiss, Wins Struggle for Equal Chance in Near East.

Luzerne—The Turkish peace treaty will be signed July 24 or 25 according to present expectations. Allied and Turkish delegates here will be the signatories of the main treaty and other documents including the agreement for control of the Turkish Straits. The Russian Soviet government has been invited by telegram to take part in the signing of the Straits convention.
The accord signifies a victory for the United States, where Representative Joseph G. Grew, minister to Switzerland, was successful in his insistence that the peace treaty be signed on equal terms. In the near east he adopted. Had it not been for his tenacity the tentative agreement made last week, unfavorable to United States interests, would have been included in the treaty.
Through numerous conferences with Ismet Pasha, head of the Turkish delegation, Mr. Grew won him over and secured the signing of the British and French plenipotentiaries.
And, having won their struggle to eliminate from the peace treaty all future performance of concessions rights for foreign companies and all official confirmation of doubtful existing concessions, the American representatives now will devote themselves to completion of the new Turkish-American treaty.

HINT FORMER LOVER'S PART IN MURDER

Los Angeles—That a man whom Mrs. Webster knew and perhaps loved as a boy when she was a school girl in Milwaukee 14 years ago, may figure in the trial of Mrs. Webster for the alleged murder of her husband, is a possibility, says the startling theory advanced last Monday. Neither Detective Lieut. Harman Oline nor any of his co-workers here today, following any publicity might thwart their attempt to locate a witness who may prove of vital importance.

FLOUR DOWN; BREAD STEADY

Chicago—Although wheat made a new low price record for 10 years and flour dropped again Monday, here Tuesday declared there would be no reduction in the price of bread for at least 60 days. THREE AUTOS HIT BUT NO ONE HURT

A sedan, coupe and touring car figured in a triple collision at the corner of Tenth and North Bluff streets 1:30 p. m. Tuesday. All three were damaged. No one was hurt.
Adolph Fitcher, 1325 Blaine avenue, was driving on Tenth street to his work at the City Ice company and was crossing Bluff when his automobile and that of M. J. Hull, Janesville, driving north on Bluff, ran into each other.

The impact of the collision threw the cars to the west side of the street and O. P. Caldwell driving a coupe south on Bluff street was not involved. The coupe was running on a broken front axle, left front wheel and left fender. The glass in the Hull sedan was partly smashed. Stories of the accident spread round the corner. Fitcher said he had the right of way, but saw he could not get out of the path of Hull's car and turned onto Bluff to avoid being struck. Fitcher claimed Hull was traveling 35 miles an hour.

OLDHAM SCHEDULES MEETING ON SALES

Breeders to Meet in Janesville July 31—To Improve Auctions.

Secretary L. L. Oldham, sounds call for eight round-table discussions.

For the past year, it has been a noticeable fact that the average of public sales has been far below what they should be. The feeling is quite general that the pendulum of adjustment is already swung too far in the direction from the war time peak and that pure-bred prices are below par as a result. The pure-bred breeder is being compelled to make the great sacrifice when he offers his better animals at public sale is a common thought. Wisconsin Holstein Association are aware to the situation and Secretary Oldham wants to know whether they are the trouble and what can be done about it. He proposes a series of 8 district meetings to which sales committees, sales managers, county association officials, state association officials and breeders in person are invited for the purpose of a round table discussion. The meetings will convene at 1:30 o'clock and will be held as follows:

July 11st, Janesville.
Aug. 1st, Dodgeville.
Aug. 2nd, Watertown.
Aug. 3rd, Fond du Lac.
Aug. 7th, Appleton.
Aug. 8th, Marshfield.
Aug. 9th, Menomonie.
Aug. 10th, La Crosse.

This subject is of tremendous importance to one of the really big businesses of the state. Upwards of 60,000,000 is tied up in ownership of Holstein-Friesian cattle in Wisconsin.

The county Holstein association secretaries are in charge of the meetings in their respective districts and it is expected that everyone interested will cooperate in the closest manner possible with those behind this forward seeing endeavor to determine what is wrong with our Holstein sales and to administer the antidote that will remedy a factor of vital importance to the expansion of the pure-bred idea in better livestock ownership in Wisconsin.

THREE WIVES WIN DIVORCE DECREES

Desertion in Two Cases—One Husband Asked Wife to Sell Self—Alimony Is Cut.

Three marriages came to an official end in circuit court Monday afternoon when Judge George Grimm issued divorce decrees. In all three cases the wife was the plaintiff, and not one suit was contested. Two were for desertion, one for cruelty.

Helen King Smith obtained a divorce from Joseph Harry Smith on grounds of desertion. She was given custody of a year-and-a-half-old son. She is the daughter Mr. and Mrs. John D. King, 22 South Main street, and was married to Smith at Crown Point, Ind., Nov. 10, 1915. They separated last April 1, when he disappeared. He is said to have furnished nothing towards her support for more than a year. No alimony was asked.

Asked Her to "Sell Self." Olive Gorman was granted a divorce from Louis Gorman, the latter's location now unknown. They were married Jan. 8, 1917. A child of four years was awarded Mrs. Gorman. She charged cruelty, telling of times when she was choked and slapped. William Humphrey appeared as witness, declaring he had heard Gorman call the wife vile names and coached the child to repeat them. Gorman deserted his wife, she says, when she refused to sell herself to other men, as he demanded. No alimony was asked, only the custody of the child.

Mrs. Jessie Bush, Milton Junction, will hereafter assume her name as Mrs. Jessie Webster, according to a decree granted her by Judge Grimm on charges of desertion. Her action was against Ira Rowell Bush, address unknown, whom she married in Milwaukee Oct. 6, 1909. They parted Dec.

27, 1913, since when she has received but little money from him and none since nine months following separation. She was Jessie Bush, and is a native of Janesville.

Remarried; Cannot Pay Alimony

In the case of Fannie Davis vs. Leslie Davis, the latter's payments of alimony to the former have been cut from $70 to $35, and the amount due by default—$385—halved. He was sued a week ago for failure to pay and has since been in the county jail. The $70 was a voluntary agreement on the part of Davis at the time of divorce, but since then he has been out of a position until recently. He is now married at Elmhurst, Ill., and has been released from jail.

Archie Cullen was appointed receiver in the case of J. J. Cunningham vs. William J. Kollerud et al., for failure to pay principle or interest on a mortgage. The total amount due is $2,317, and as another mortgage of $14,000 is on the property, north of town, the total value of the lot and farm will be insufficient to cover both mortgages.

Judge Grimm has left the city to return next Monday.

anyone who wishes to study the European situation ought to do so to examine the physical aspects of France's problem.

Changes Are Great

It was nearly five years ago when the writer last saw the battlefields, with the ruins of cities and villages. The changes that have taken place since then are so heavy that the writer can hardly realize what has been done unless he saw the destruction when the guns ceased booming on the western front. The peace has been gradual and only when someone makes a comparison based on France today and France five years ago can the progress be measured satisfactorily.

Wonderful rebuilding work for France is rebuilding and is making a splendid job of it. Even the Cathedral of Rheims, which one might have believed had been damaged beyond repair, is being restored rapidly. Hopless ruins with piles upon piles of debris, which the visitor saw five years ago, have been replaced with thousands of new houses and buildings. The old foundations have been utilized and here and there portions of the original wall remained so that the patchwork can be discerned even through coats of paint.

When the writer saw Rheims after the German evacuation hardly a single house remained intact. The same was true of Soissons, for example, and other cities and villages where shell fire had been incessant.

French Spirit Revealed

To look around today is a revelation indeed of the French spirit. The business sections of the cities have been almost entirely rebuilt and rows of roofless ruins are the exception rather than the rule.

Even in the fields, picturesque patches of diversified farming are rapidly overspreading the landscape once burrowed with trench systems and shell holes. The sunshine of peace has begun to cast halo of glory over yesterday's battlefields. Here and there a plowman still turns up a hand grenade or a bomb of perhaps the body of an unknown poilu, these five years as the world moves onward, but the aspect of war is passing out of the picture and in its place is the work of reconstruction that speaks eloquently of French initiative.

Unbattered Areas Remain

The unbattered areas still remain, of course, as they were left five years ago. There were regions where the habitations were few as, for instance, outside of Verdun. From these the sighter will always be able to get some idea of what the war was like. The famous bayonet trench at Verdun attracts every year thousands who need only to gaze a moment on the 14 bayonet sticking out of the ground in order to realize how often soldiers in the great war were buried alive by shell fire. The French will preserve this trench as a memorial to the heroism of the men who were killed as they were about to go over the top and who remain standing below ground in exactly the same position as they occupied when the fatal shell entombed them. This trench will ever remain as a symbol of modern warfare and a terrible picture of what the war really meant to the French.

An American has been 3,000 miles from his French in spirit as well as distance since the war but the French people are near enough to Verdun to worry about a repetition of 1870 and 1914, and when they want reparations the German evacuation hardly a single house remained intact. The same was true of Soissons, for example, and other cities and villages where shell fire had been incessant.

COUNCIL REVISES SIGN ORDINANCE

Arterial Highway Matter Is Put Over Until Next Week for Action.

Revision of the city sign ordinance was made by the city council at their regular meeting Monday night. By virtue of the amendment, signs may now be erected down town from buildings to three feet inside the curb line. The original ordinance provided that the signs could not be extended more than five feet from the building. It was contended that such ruling would make adequate signs impossible.

The new ordinance also restricts the weight of the signs to 200 pounds. They must also be at least 18 inches above the sidewalk. The ordinance also provides for frequent inspection and permit fees.

Arterial Highway Question.

Although the council spent considerable time discussing the proposed revised arterial highway ordinance, it was decided to hold the matter over to the special meeting scheduled for next Monday night. Difficulties over making Jackson and Pleasant streets arterial highways and the proposed bill as satisfactory as possible resulted in the delay. The present ordinance as prepared by Attorney Cunningham makes East and West streets arterial highways and the bill as satisfactory as possible resulted in the delay.

The savings of the people of Janesville in the year June 30, 1922 to June 30, 1923, in spite of the great number of automobiles being sold and the amount of money withdrawn from savings accounts for the purchase of autos, the banks show a healthy improvement. ALASKANS EAGERLY GREET PRESIDENT

Shower Chief With Hospitality; Even Laddie Boy Is Remembered.

(By Associated Press.)

Aboard President Harding's Special Train, Alaska Railroad—Rest second Tuesday to have reached Mrs. Harding from Fairbanks which Monday led President Harding to turn southward over the Alaska railroad from Fairbanks instead of following a plan outlined by the Alaskans and enthusiastically urged by Mrs. Harding—to proceed back to the coast by automobile. Nearly 24 hours were passed by the presidential party in Fairbanks, the northern terminus of the railroad. The president left there Monday night, greatly impressed by the agriculture and the mining of which that city, some time called the Chicago of Alaska, is the center. But he was much disappointed at missing the automobile trip.

The president attributed Mrs. Harding's failure to the current hospitality of the Alaskans and to the long days at this time of year. This led to many hours of activity, with shortened periods of rest. The president told the people of Fairbanks that Mrs. Harding had been forced to go to bed, worn out. She had received several gifts from the people of that city earlier in the day. The Fairbanks folk even remembered Laddie Boy, the president's dog, with a collar of moose hide, decorated with nugget gold and fossil ivory, valued at $450.

Chicago & North Western System C. & N. W. Ry. C., St. P., M. & O. Ry. Reasons Why the Transportation Act of 1920 Should Not Be Changed A CONSTRUCTIVE MEASURE: The Transportation Act provides the basis and specifies the method of arriving at just and reasonable rates. It is a piece of highly constructive legislation and was enacted after a most careful and exhaustive study. It clarified and gave certainty to the then existing law and promises justice to all. It did not guarantee the carriers against loss subsequent to August 31, 1920. SECTION 15a—RULE OF RATE-MAKING: This section of the Act provides a basis for fixing rates that will produce revenue sufficient to meet operating costs, taxes and a 5% per cent return upon the value of the property used for transportation purposes, as ascertained by the Interstate Commerce Commission. This is fair to the public and is intended to be fair to the investor. It does not create any new principles, but defines clearly principles which were established by the Federal Constitution and have been repeatedly applied by the Courts. SECTION 13—CO-OPERATION BETWEEN COMMISSIONS: This section insures a uniform system of state and interstate rates. It protects and maintains the supremacy of interstate rates and denies to the state the power to nullify or disregard rates established by the Interstate Commerce Commission. It clarifies and reaffirms the principles of our Constitution, abolishing the cause of many contentions and frequent litigation over rates, and has for its justification many of the reasons underlying the adoption of the Constitution. It makes it possible for the Federal Government to establish and maintain its interstate rates, and to secure the co-operation of the state commission, and thereby to simplify the railroad problem. NATIONAL PROGRESS: Our nation is making progress. Our wealth is increasing. Our commerce is expanding. Our future prosperity is dependent largely upon adequate transportation. It is imperative, therefore, that the regulation of railroads shall be just and wise. This is what the Transportation Act undertakes to establish. TRANSPORTATION ACT SHOULD HAVE A FAIR TRIAL: The Transportation Act has been in effect a little over three years. During that time the commercial conditions have been very abnormal in this and other countries, and the Transportation Act has not been tested under normal conditions. It has only partially realized the benefits contemplated, but has justified itself, and should be continued in effect until experience demonstrates the need of a change. M. H. Zimley President

'CHAMPION' COW'S DINNER FEATURE

Dairy Queen, Done in Ice Cream, Served to 'Aggie' Instructors.

De Kol Plus Segs Dixie, world's champion dairy cow, appeared at the Dairy Queen club, held in the Y. M. C. A. Tuesday noon, when the Smith-Hughes agricultural instructors of Wisconsin were entertained. The dairy queen was done in ice cream prepared by A. E. Piper of the Smith-Hughes Ice Cream company. After being introduced by J. A. Craig, "Dixie" was carved-up and distributed.

There were more than 100 at the Rotary club dinner and an interesting program was given.

L. E. Jackson presided during the program. J. D. Tormey, fieldman for the American Southern association, spoke on the importance of the good relationship between the urban and rural interests of Rock county.

Charles Snyder, editor of the Chicago Drovers' Journal, spoke. The response for the visiting teachers was made by Miss L. E. Tormey, who declared "Rock county appeared like a lump of gold" in its agricultural and commercial development.

During the morning the Smith-Hughes teachers visited the farm of J. C. Robinson and Son, Evansville, where Herefords were studied.

Two classes of the prize Herefords were judged, the final selections being made by J. L. Tormey and Hugh Robinson.

Two small bulls led out the two herd bulls, including a son of Bonnie Era, the eight weighing more than a ton. The stock made a decided impression on the visitors. The next demonstration was of the farm of the Walter Little estate, where Milking Shorthorns were shown. The two herd bulls—Golden West and Premier Model—were discussed by Prof. H. H. Tormey. This is the sixth year that Shorthorns have been bred on the Little farm. A class of cows was shown and milk records discussed.

Following the Rotary club dinner the teachers were taken to the farm of J. J. McCann and Sons for a Beech Shorthorn demonstration. The cattle being fitted on this farm for the show here were exhibited.

Two speakers, Charles Snyder and J. L. Tormey lectured Tuesday afternoon at the high school on meat production and marketing. L. E. Tormey discussed agricultural organization in Rock county.

Hambrecht Speaks. During the afternoon session Monday, George F. Hambrecht, state director of vocational education, spoke on the need of part time education to reach those not able to attend high school or colleges.

"Education is a resistant to changes and reforms," declared Mr. Hambrecht. "People are bound by old ideas and superstitions. We must look to the discovery of law instead of merely making laws. Legislation of education is noted during the address were as follows:

- 1.—Preservation of human life, health and safety.
- 2.—Living.
- 3.—Rearing of children.
- 4.—Things which make for better citizenship.

- 5.—Pleasures of life, the arts and sciences.

"Our schools do well, but reach only those able to attend the ordinary public school. Only one-half of one per cent. of the children of the first grade ever graduate from the universities or colleges. In Wisconsin only 25 per cent of those who enter first grade ever go to high school, 75 per cent of the boys and girls in the high school are in the industries," continued Mr. Hambrecht.

ECKMAN TO FACE TRIAL ON SHOOTING OF CARL FRITZ

The porch, the accused man's partner testified. The Swedish boy, who can understand little English, told practically the same story as Johnson insofar as the fight and shooting of Fritz was concerned. Carlson was lying on a couch near the kitchen and told his Fritz came into the house and attack Mrs. Eckman, seizing her by her hair.

Called to Scene. Mrs. Will Bridgeway, who lives across the road from the Eckman place, testified she was called to the place by Mrs. Fritz after the shooting and that they called Darwin on the telephone and summoned Dr. F. R. Koo, who arrived after Fritz died. Sheriff H. W. Lyle told of his being called to the shooting by E. C. Woodford, Darwin township chairman, and arresting Fritz and taking possession of the shotgun, which he exhibited, together with the broken gun stock. In one barrel was the discharged shell. The other barrel of the 12 gauge, double barreled shot gun was empty.

Coroner F. C. Mayer, Genoa Junction, presided at the inquest, which was held before a small crowd in the court room here.

The stories told by Eckman and his wife, to which Johnson and Carlson attest, puts Eckman in the role of a defender of the home and Fritz as the aggressor, and who invaded the home.

There were but five witnesses to the shooting, four to this story and the fifth, that of Mrs. Fritz, wife of the dead man, who was not called to testify, is decidedly contradictory. Mrs. Fritz was not in the house during the quarrel and incident. What she saw was what occurred on the back porch. Eckman is a murderer who shot her husband down in cold blood after he left the house, according to the coroner's verdict.

Fritz Funeral Tuesday. Funeral services for Carl Fritz were held at 10:30 a. m. Tuesday at the farm home at Johnsonville with the Rev. E. C. Hise of the Richmond Methodist church officiating. Burial was in Spring Grove cemetery. Delavan, Fallbackers were present, including, Mrs. Fritz, Mrs. and Wilbur, George Reese, Aaron Thompson and Leon Piper.

This word came here Monday afternoon by Oscar G. Dietz, 523 W. Main street, who managed the twins for 14 seasons.

The last time Howard Lyman appeared in Janesville was with his brother, Herbert, who was the Myers theater in 1911, in "The Speculators." They had Kathryn Evans with them, who had been in the cast of the play of "The Death of Lincoln's slayer," was a member.

Howard Lyman was here last fall, visiting Mr. Dietz. The brothers left the stage, except for occasional scenario writing, several years ago and began business careers.

Howard Lyman is survived by his wife, who was Emma Abbott, of Waukegan, niece of Emma Abbott, the opera singer.

ELKS CONVENTION GREAT SUCCESS

Delegate Roger Cunningham Back from Atlanta Grand Lodge.

Roger Cunningham, home from the convention of the grand lodge of Elks at Atlanta says it was one of the greatest assemblies of its kind ever held in history of this country.

"On Sunday and Monday thousands of delegates and guests were arriving from all parts of the country, mostly on special trains, but the Atlanta reception committee met every incoming visitor and personally looked after the matter of his getting properly located and housed. There were some 23 delegates from Wisconsin, representing 17 different lodges, and the Wisconsin delegation assembled at Chicago and from there travelled together by special cars to Atlanta and return.

"On the way to Atlanta the special cars of the Wisconsin delegation were attached to the special train, known as the 'Sunshine Special,' from South Dakota, 'boosting' James G. McFarland, to the Watertown, S. D., for election to the office of grand exalted ruler. A full day was spent at Chattanooga visiting the many points of historic and scenic interest. The Wisconsin delegation reached Atlanta rather late Sunday evening but nevertheless our special train was met by hundreds of the Atlanta committeemen and the business sessions of the convention could not have been more hearty.

"The business sessions of the convention were held on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday mornings, and the sessions of these sessions were brief and snappy, but the reports clearly indicated the wonderful progress of the order and the great good that it is accomplishing, and it is felt that a great deal of further progress will result from matters initiated at the convention. At the first business session of the convention James G. McFarland, of Watertown, S. D., was elected grand exalted ruler for the ensuing year. The City of Atlanta truly upheld the traditional hospitality of the south. Everything possible was provided to make our visit in the city pleasant and interesting. Every possible moment outside of the time allotted to the business sessions was filled with wholesome entertainment provided by the Atlanta committee. Whether the convention be judged from the standpoint of the work accomplished or the character of the entertainment and social features provided, it is unquestionably the largest and most successful of the most successful in the history of the order.

"On the return trip most of the Wisconsin delegation visited Miami Beach, Fla., where the opportunity to become intimately acquainted and frequently discuss problems local to this community has already been taken. It is further hoped that the work of the Wisconsin State association, and the state convention to be held in Madison, Aug. 23-24-25, and it is felt that the Wisconsin lodge in this community will naturally follow from the close association of the representatives from this state.

CLEAN AUTO CAMP IS BOOST-WELCH

Health Officer Says Modern Tourist Camp Loosens Autoist's Purse.

Tourist camps have a strong support in City Health Officer Dr. Fred B. Welch, who has just returned from Ashland, on part of his vacation. He will now go to Green Bay and perhaps farther north.

He says the tourist camp movement has been a great aid to the ever-increasing ranks of those who take their vacations by automobile, and adds that the more money city spends on its tourist camp, the more benefit it will reap.

"When a tourist stops at a nice camp, where things are clean and where there are the proper facilities, he is going to stay two or three days instead of the one day he had planned," says Dr. Welch. "He is going to come down-town and buy groceries and other things, and before he leaves will have left considerable money in the town. There is sure to be a good reaction from any money spent by a municipality in improving its tourist camp, and for that reason, I am glad Janesville has taken the step to at least start improvements."

"Dr. Welch told of several tourist camps he visited, and of the spirit of cordiality evidenced by many towns, while other locations did nothing to encourage."

Prosperity Whose People Boost. "I never noticed before the difference it makes in a town if the residents are knockers or boosters, but certainly does. You stop in one town, ask where a restaurant is, and some people are willing to even stop and show you the place."

Busy Man's Sport Page

By FRANK SINCLAIR

CAREFULNESS in reporting baseball scores is an essential to good sportsmanship. Recently the writer has been aware of some teams turning in scores when the loss that would be their defeat look better. Why would this be done? Why not take defeat in the manner in which it comes? Monday a story was turned in to the Gazette showing that a local team outdid its opponent, though defeated. A telegraph story by the Associated Press on the same game showed that instead of the home team getting more hits than the away team, they were actually out-hit. The error in the two scores were the same, so therefore something was wrong in the report. It was not the help a team may rather it put them in a bad light before other towns that are aware of the truth. Accurate publicity helps a team, whether it wins or loses.

"A TRUE SPORTSMAN." That is one of the first phrases that shot across the wires with the news that Bobby Jones, the amateur of Atlanta, had won the national open golf championship. No greater word may be applied to any man in athletics. It is comparable only to telling a man, "You're a gentleman." It is a tribute of highest calibre, a tribute that seems to go with the fact that Jones hails from the south.

TOR YEARS Jones has been talked of as "the coming champion." When he was but 15 years of age he won the title of the south, and was termed "the boy wonder." While he added many other minor honors to his glory, he was always vanquished when it came to events of nation-wide importance. He again won the south-east amateur title when he was 18, and again when he was 20. When he first played in the open he came under the wire in eighth position. That was three years ago. The second time he fought he came in fifth. Last year he was runner-up. Now he still marched forward and copied. Consistency, no name for it, is what raised Jones to the ranks that put him in the foremost ranks. Now the question is: "What will he do in the national amateur tournament?"

W. Leroy Tennis of Toronto won open singles tennis championship of Canada and was chosen member of Canadian Davis cup team for 1923.

Hank Thomas sets new world mark of 2:05 3/4 for trotters at Milwaukee, O.

Diamond Sparkies (By A. F.)—Tanks not only lost half their double header with Cleveland Indians Monday but they temporarily lost Bullet Joe Bush, their star twirler. Joe stopped at Hines of Sparks' bat with his glove hand, threw first for an out, and retired from game for at least 10 days with broken finger. Indians won first 6-0, but second, 11-7. Smith, Yankees right fielder hit homer. Giants and Cubs split double header. Cubs won first game, 7 to 4. Giants, Ted Blankenship passed out four free tickets to first which, coupled with error by McClellin, allowed Philadelphia to escape with the game, 4 to 3. Robins defeated Pirates in Brooklyn, 8 to 4. Washington defeated Detroit in latter's field in close game, 4 to 2. Red Sox won third game of series, 4 to 3. Phillies went down to 13 to 7 defeat on home grounds at hands of Cardinals. Cincinnati-Boston game at Boston called off on account of rain.

Parkers Claim They Will Beat K. of C. Tuesday

As vital as if they were rock and ready to place the Knights of Columbus and the Parker Pen teams in the city kitchen ball league will clash at the fair grounds at 8:15 p. m. Tuesday.

The Knights are in first position, undefeated so far this season. The Parkers are a bit behind, but they have developed a new strength in the clutch of the best in the circuit. After their victory of last week over the Kiwanis, the "Lucky Curve" gave out the information that the Parker Pen team was now in the lead.

Should the Parkers trim the K. of C. there is a chance for a three-way tie for first place.

The Lakota, who until a week ago had not lost a game and were incoiled with the K. of C. for the lead will take in the Elks. It looks like a sure win for the Lakota.

The Gazette will play the Kiwanis club. The newspaper men apparently have hit their stride after losing two of their games in the last two weeks. They will always have been slugging the pill, only to find their opponent stage a late rally and walk off with the laurels.

Tuesday's game will see the close of the first round. The balance of the schedule follows:

July 21—Lakota vs. Kiwanis; Parker Pen vs. Gazette; Elks vs. K. of C.

July 31—Gazette vs. K. of C.; Lakota vs. Parker Pen; Kiwanis vs. Elks.

Aug. 7—Lakota vs. Gazette; Elks vs. Parker Pen; K. of C. vs. Kiwanis; Parker Pen vs. K. of C.; Lakota vs. Parker Pen vs. K. of C.; Gazette vs. Kiwanis.

Kearns Has New Offer

(By Associated Press)—Richard Monday made a definite proposition to Jack Kearns, manager of Jack Dempsey, that the heavyweight champion meet Luis Firpo, South American youngster who knocked out Jess Willard last week, in Buenos Aires, as Firpo wishes.

Kearns announced he would make known his decision by Wednesday. Richard said his agents in the Argentine capital had assured him Nov. 1 would be a good date and that a $800,000 gate would make a match between Firpo and either Dempsey or Harry Wills, negro boxer.

HOPES OF FANS IN U. S.

NEW YORK—Hopes of North American fight fans that they would be able to witness the proposed battle between Jack Dempsey and Luis Angel Firpo for the heavyweight title took a slump Tuesday following the announcement Monday night by promoter Tex Rickard that definite plans were being made for staging the contest in Buenos Aires.

Rickard had had agents looking over the chances in South America and they have reported, he stated, that a conservative estimate of the cash to be received for a bout between Firpo and the champion in the "Paris of South America" was about $800,000, the exact nature of the proposition was not learned.

FIVE MOVIE COMPANIES WANT TO SCREEN TOMMY

St. Paul, Minn.—Five motion picture companies are bidding for the services of Jack Gibbons, St. Paul lightweight boxer, Eddie Kane, his manager said Tuesday.

Kane said he is continuing to receive offers from promoters for another bout with Jack Dempsey but he said he would turn a deaf ear to them until Tommy has completed his vaudeville and movie engagements.
